Thompson Dies, Manslaughter Charge Filed

Thomas Howard Thompson, aged 77, a resident of Hope, Rt. 4, died in a local hospital early today of injuries suffered in a car-truck wreck Sunday afternoon on North Hazel street.

Mr. Thompson suffered injuries when the truck which he was driving was hit from behind by another vehicle driven by Berry L. Wright, also of Hope, Rt. 4. Investigating City Officers Rothwell and Sinyard filed charges of driving while intoxicated against Wright. He entered a plea of guilty to the charge in Municipal Court Monday and was fined $50 and a day in jail.

Deputy Prosecuting Attorney John L. Wilson today filed a charge of involuntary manslaughter against Wright.

Mr. Thompson is survived by his wife, Mrs. May Thompson, two brothers, Will and Akadephia, and Jim Thompson of Farmersville, Texas, two sisters, Mrs. May Leatherwood of Farmersville, and Mrs. Mary Logan of Soper, Okla. Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Saturday at Herndon Chapel by the Rev. Morlin Cox. Burial will be in Rose Hill Cemetery of Hope. Active pallbearers: Thomas and David McKee, Herbert Arnold, Jack Sumpter, Archie Smith and Jack Simmons.

Magnolia to Get a New Factory

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Odyssey Trailer Co. will establish a plant at Magnolia to manufacture collapsible house trailers. It was announced yesterday.

The plant will employ about 60 persons. Trailers will be made of fiber-glass and will sell for about $2,500 each.

House Group Criticizes Agri Department

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee accused the Agriculture Department today of "complete disregard for the law," criticized its policies, and cut its 1960 funds by $142,199,365.

In recommending $3,939,105,496 for the department's activities for the year starting July 1, the committee called for a much more active program of selling surplus commodities overseas.

Along with that criticism, it contended that many of the department's operations "are of more benefit to the general public than to the farmer."

"The situation in agriculture does not present a good picture," the committee said in a report written by Rep. Jamie L. Whitten (D-Miss.).

For the department's regular activities, the committee recommended $1,235,943,585, a cut of $42,199,365 from the President's requests.

For the Commodity Credit Assn. Corp., which handles surplus commodities and other farm programs, it allotted $2,702,521,912, a cut of 400 million dollars. It said "this amount can be obtained by a return to competitive sales as directed by the law."

For loan programs, which were not direct appropriations, it approved 421 million dollars. "This was an increase of 33 million," all of it for the Farmers Home Administration which handles production and subsistence and farm ownership loans. The Rural Electrification Administration's share of the loan authorizations was 215 million, the amount requested.

The committee criticized what it called the department's failure to sell its surplus commodities on a competitive basis throughout the world. The existing policy, it said, "has invited expansion in foreign production" and has boosted storage and handling costs to the Commodity Credit Corp.

Failure to make worldwides of surplus cotton, the committee said, "shows a complete disregard for the law" and "can only lead to further damage to the U.S. farmer, the Treasury, and the taxpayer."

The committee said it was convinced that acreage reductions through the soil bank or other restrictions "no longer work."

To Show Feed Practices at Dillard Farm

A year-round pasture program that provides some green feed for quality beef cattle during most weeks of the year may be observed at the W. M. Dillard & Son, Inc. Hereford farm on Monday afternoon, May 18 at 1:30.

The Dillard's are using various combinations of grass and legumes including Singletary Peas on Bermuda, Oats and Singletary Peas on Bermuda, Dallis grass and/or Bermuda grass and clover on legume, chestnut and oats, and other native pasture plants. The various grasses and legumes are growing during different seasons of the year so as to aid each other.

New seedlings of Bermuda grass on new ground may be observed. A permanent pasture on rolling land that was previously in non-productive vines and trees will be inspected. Fields of chestnut and oats that were grazed heavily during the winter months are about ready for harvest. Singletary Peas that provided winter grazing up to this time are now giving away to the summer grass.

The policy of Herefords that have been used in utilization of the year-round type pastures will be observed with the management discussed by the Dillard's.

Mental Case Hacks at Major With Hatchet

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A man who had escaped from a mental hospital fulfilled an obsession to attack a serviceman Thursday by hacking at a passing army major with a hatchet.

The attack took place in fashionable Rittenhouse Square in the mid-city park.

Hundreds saw Frank Hecker Jr., 40, swing the hatchet at Maj. James L. Higgins, 40. He missed the first time, but fractured the World War II veteran's skull with the second swipe.

As Higgins fell, crying "Oh, My God!" Hecker plunged a knife into his own stomach and fell beside his victim.

Higgins was in critical condition, but doctors said his chances for recovery were good, although he might be partly paralyzed from brain damage.

Hecker's wounds were described as not serious. He was held for a psychiatric examination.

"People were always picking on me," he explained later to investigators. "If I killed someone they would stop calling me a coward or a slacker."

"I don't like the Army," was another explanation he gave. "I have been fighting the Army for years. He is an ex-serviceman."

Police had been looking for him since his escape Wednesday from Philadelphia State Hospital where he had been since March 1958.

Pulaski Board Extends Contract
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Pulaski County (Rural) School Board yesterday extended the contract of T. H. Alford, principal of Jacksonville High School, who has conditionally accepted an offer to become superintendent of the Little Rock school district.

County Superintendent J. P. Dunn said Alford asked that his contract be extended until it was determined whether he would get the new job, offered by three segregationist school board members now under recall fire.

The county board asked Alford to give notice by July 1 whether he intends to continue as Jacksonville principal.

Alford is the father of Rep. Dale Alford (D-Ark.).

Recall Vote Is Set May 25 at Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Pulaski County Election Commissioners today set May 25 as the date for an election on the issue of recalling school board members.

The commissioners acted after receiving confirmation from County Clerk Robert S. Peters that petitions for the election contained sufficient names.

Two sets of petitions were filed by separate factions in a storm over a teacher purge.

The names of all six board members will appear on the ballot.

W. H. Lubach, secretary of the commission, said voters can cast ballots to recall any or all of the board members.

Peters did not reveal how many names he certified and the election commissioners did not give a figure either.

Carpenters Strike at Test Center

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Union carpenters struck the missile test center here today in a contract dispute.

Pickets were set up at the north and south gates of both the center and nearby Patrick Air Force Base. Two men were at each post, carrying placards reading: "Carpenters' employees on strike for higher wages."

Picketing was orderly. About 400 carpenters in Brevard County—115 of them at the cape—are involved. The strike could affect about 8,000 of the estimated 10,000 employees at the Cape and an additional 2,000 at the air base and other construction projects in the county.

The Carpenters Union, Local 1069, is asking an "unannounced" pay boost retroactive to April 1, when it signed a contract with the contractors.

The contractors have offered a staggered, 35-cent-an-hour wage package in a two-year pact. They insist the first 15-cent boost not be retroactive.

The carpenters now average $2.85 an hour.

The strike is not expected to affect missile launches.

Group Looks Into Fund for Emergencies

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House committee said today President Eisenhower at times has used emergency funds for matters not involving emergencies.

The Appropriations Committee recommended allowing the President another $100 million in 1960 for a fund out of which he may freely provide for emergencies involving the national security, interest or defense. The sum is the same as that appropriated for the fund last year.

As a case in point, the committee cited a recent study of the mutual security program, although the program has been before Congress each year for more than a decade for "thorough consideration."

"In recommending an appropriation in the full amount requested, the committee hopes that the utmost restraint will be exercised in the use of this fund for the purposes intended," the committee reported said.

The fund was contained in a bill recommending $14,698,500 to finance the presidential executive office, various commissions and boards, and to maintain the executive mansion for 1960.

Miss Velora Bright and Mrs. Harvey Montgomery, Collier Tire and Appliance Co. employees, have won an all-expense trip to St. Louis and left today noon and will return Monday morning.

The trip was given by the RCA Whirlpool Co. . . . the three day trip includes baseball games and sight-seeing.

At Henderson State Teachers College, Arkadelphia, William Andrews of Hope was one of 23 ROTC students promoted to cadets second lieutenants.

Russia Presents Own Plan for a Divided Berlin

GENEVA (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko today presented his own plan for a divided Berlin, one that would force West Germany to sever its ties with the Eastern bloc.

The United States, Britain and France months ago rejected this whole approach to the problem of a German peace settlement.

Western informants said after a quick examination of the version presented by Gromyko at today's conference session that its apparently contained no substantial changes.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said in a speech in Russian Thursday that "peace must be made with the two actually existing German states."

The Soviet plan is completely at loggerheads with the Western package proposals, which calls for a peace treaty with a unified Germany.

Gromyko was reported to have made some preliminary comments on the Western plan today.

The Western leaders were pre-occupied after a Soviet move to split up their package and, in goodie piece meal, for a stop-gap arrangement on Berlin, Germany reunification, European security and disarmament.

But before they offer to do that, the Western ministers require some evidence that Gromyko is interested in serious give and take on at least one of these issues that appeared doubtful.

The Western plan would make Berlin a unified city guaranteed by the Big Four after elections under U.N. or Big Four supervision.

Experiment Station report for 24 hours ending at 7 a. m. Friday, May 15, 1959. High 74, Low 48. No precipitation. Total 1959 precipitation through April, 13.99 inches; during the same period a year ago, 23.88.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A mild May cool snap chilled most of the eastern half of the nation today and cooler air also headed into some western sections.

Anchorage, Alaska, was warmer this morning than St. Louis and Louisville, Ky., and almost as warm as Atlanta, Ga., as the cold Canadian air dipped into the subland.

Chillest weather was in the north-central region with temperatures in the 40s in New England to the 50s and low 60s in the Gulf States. The readings were 7 to 15 degrees lower than 24 hours earlier.

Frost was indicated from New England to the North Carolina mountains.

Only other wet spots were in the Pacific northwest and in New Mexico and the Texas panhandle.

Fair and warm weather continued in the far Southwest but it was cooler along the Pacific coast.

Navy Blimp Crashes, One Man Killed

By Russell H. Mullen

ARKHURST, N.J. (AP) — One crewman was killed early today when a Navy blimp crashed into a hangar while attempting to land in a dense fog. Six crewmen were hospitalized and several others suffered minor injuries.

The wreckage was wedged in the hangar roof 150 feet above the ground.

Rescue workers clambered over the roof and removed the injured crewmen who had been trapped in the blimp's gondola.

Names of the dead man and the injured were withheld by the Navy pending notification of next of kin.

The freak accident left the wreckage near the top of the 150-foot high hangar. The whole roof top was shrouded by the blimp.

is found in the Old Testament. It is supremely the source-book of hero worship.

I think that it is in David and Solomon that boyish heroism is at its best in the Old Testament. I think, too, that this interest in the glamorous aspects of both Kings, to the disregard for exhortation of the darker and less as-pects that are more emphasized in the adult reading of the Old Testament.

Of King Solomon the outstanding fact for the boy was that he was "the wisest man that ever lived," a tradition not so verified by later reading. It was based on the story of Solomon's choice of wisdom (1 Kings 3:9-14), the attributing to him of the wise sayings of Proverbs, and the incident of the judgment of the two women claiming a baby.

In general it has perhaps been too much disregarded that Solomon's choice of wisdom was in a dream and in conflict with the wisdom of his actual life, and that of David, a boy's hero worship related mostly to his earlier life without much notice of the fact that his chief greatness was as King of Israel, which he became only after the greater part of his life had passed. Including his years as an outlaw, a child could hardly appreciate the fact that David took over a nation in ruins and built it up on strong and powerful heritage for Solomon.

But despite the aspects of boyish and triumph, and the magnificence of Solomon in his extension of the kingdom, and his building of temples and palaces, and his reputation for wisdom, the glory was tarnished and the greatness went down in civil war, disruption, and eventual destruction of one kingdom, and the downfall of another in exile.

However, small boys became acquainted with the Bible, and their reading became a basis for adult enlightenment.

There is much in the Bible and in other history that goes far beyond boyish hero worship.

told of the blimp's great gas bag. Rescuers had to reach the scene with aerial ladders and then turn beneath the deflated bag to reach the gondola car where the injured lay. It had rammed par-tially through the hangar roof and remained stuck fast.

The ZPG-2 blimp was returning from a routine 21-hour anti-submarine patrol early this morning. It was making a radio-controlled approach through a swirling fog that blanketed out everything more than 100 feet away.

"They probably never saw the ground until after they hit," said Lt. Cmdr. Herman Spahr, admin-istrative officer of Squadron 3 to which the craft was attached.

"The fog was so bad we radioed 'to come in again,'" said Spahr. "It was just picking up speed to 45 miles an hour when it hit."

The huge bag was ripped by the wreckage and its million cubic feet of helium was released and through its rent sides. The gas is noninflammable and dispersed without harm into the fog.

Rescuers at first were unable to locate four officers and two men beneath the entangling sheets of the 343-foot-long bag. They were found in the fore part of the metal alloy gondola.

After almost five hours one of the officers was pried loose. He was taken down a ladder strapped to a litter. The shirt of one of the little bearers was smeared with blood.

The crew members in the rear of the bag were unhurt and made their way down ladders to safety.

Spahr said rescuers had talked to the two trapped officers' parents, having difficulty freeing them.

Spahr said the landing, as a routine instrument approach, the same kind the commercial air-lines make.

There was a total of eight officers and 10 enlisted men aboard.

Spahr said the blimp was about two years old. It is made up of the sausage-shaped balloon that holds the helium and the gondola car that hangs below it. The blimp's two motors are attached to the gondola.

THE SERMON GOES ON

WILSON, N. Y. (AP) — Enroute here after conducting church services in nearby Newfane, the Rev. William M. Davis encountered an icy patch on the Wilson-Burt Road. His car left the road, rolled over twice and came to a halt in an orchard, a fatal wreck.

Momentarily stunned but otherwise unhurt, the Rev. Mr. Davis was first picked up by St. Andrews Episcopal Church, Newfane, and St. John's Church, Wilson, hailed a passing motorist. He then continued to the service here.

"I won't rather wait too, consid-ering," he said later.

Biblical heroes glow large in the

Speaking Series

There will be a series of sermons given on Stewardship over the Baptist Hour Broadcast, April 5 through May 24. Sponsored by the Colored Interdenominational Ministerial Alliance, the following ministers will speak:

May 17 - Rev. J. S. McFadden
May 24 - Rev. J. M. Stewart
Note: It is the desire of the Alliance that after you have heard each speaker, write in your com-ment. Address all mail to Rev. M. S. Riley, 506 N. Hazel St., Hope, Ark. All mail will be read on the broadcast. Rev. M. S. Riley, public-ity chairman, Rev. E. N. Glover, secretary, Rev. J. E. Coby, presi-dent.

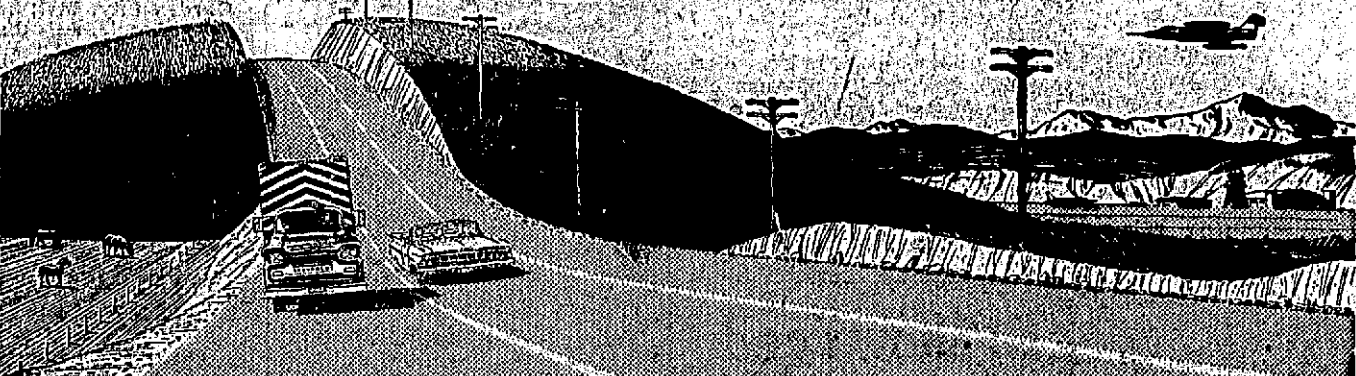

the life and imagination of a boy brought up, as I was, in a home where the Bible was the chief, and almost the only, book. Run-yan's "Pilgrim's Progress," in a delightful pictorial edition, was alongside it, but there were no works of fiction, and I remem-ber my parents' questioning atti-tude when Charles Dickens' "David Copperfield" who was signed by the school for home-reading.

It was not that my parents were narrow-minded or unenlightened, and we had in our home the finest publications of Canadian Methodism of the time. It was a part of a serious and somewhat philosophical outlook on life, and a feeling against "worldliness."

It was in the Bible, therefore, that not only I, but many small boys, first discovered their heroes.

The historic and legendary life of peoples and nations has ac-counted for a large literature, but I doubt whether there is any-thing comparable to the con-stant, detailed, vivid account of the Jews in their ancient home-land and surrounding empires, as

John Cain Chapter of U. D. C.
Has Last Meeting of the Year

At the final meeting until next fall of the John Cain Chapter of the U. D. C. a luncheon was held at the Diamond Cafe on May 13. Mrs. Arthur Wimmell, chairman for the advancement of American music, introduced Mrs. Amy H. Ball of Nashville who presented an original program on Folk Music.

Mrs. Ball, who has had several songs published, gave some interesting information about the inspirations for song composition. Then, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Wimmell, she sang one of the "spirituals" she had written, "His Glory Shines Through."

The hostesses were Mrs. R. E. Cain, Mrs. J. M. Houston, Mrs. George Frazier, and Mrs. Roy Anderson.

Mrs. Edith Rateliff, speaker for Licensed Practical Nurses.

The Licensed Practical Nurses heard an interesting talk by Mrs. Edith Rateliff, R.N., when they met on May 12 in the City Hall courtroom.

Mrs. Rateliff spoke on "Nursing Care of the Geriatrics." The number of people 65 years of age or older has quadrupled in the past half century and more of them are active than ever before, she told them. "But in the case of homes for our senior citizens, the U. N. plays an important role because of the funds, staffs, and sympathy which can be furnished."

The devotion, taken from Romans 12, was given by Mrs. West, Mae Poole, and the business was conducted by the president, Mrs. Sam Revis.

The hostesses, Mrs. Glen Dean Lively and Mrs. Lenora City, served cake and coffee to 13 members and two guests, Mrs. Ralfe and Mrs. W. B. Ray.

Magnolia Garden Club
Met at Confederate State Capitol

The Magnolia Garden Club met at the Confederate State Capitol Monday, May 18, at 7:30 p. m. with sixteen members and two new members, Mrs. A. M. Hulse and Mrs. A. D. Barrow, present.

Guests were members of the Club, Mrs. J. M. Hulse, Mrs. W. I. Stroud, President. Presided over the business meeting and opened the meeting with the Lord's Prayer repeated in unison. Mrs. Bill Etter called the roll and read the minutes of the last meeting which were approved as read. Mrs. Dub Pincus gave the treasurer's report. A committee composed of Mrs. Russell Rowe, Mrs. Dub Pincus, Mrs. Charles Haynes, Mrs. Gene Shumaker, Mrs. Margaret May and Mrs. Phil Dudley volunteered as a Civic Improvement group to begin an immediate landscaping project by planting annuals at the Catts Block Tea House Center now undergoing complete restoration.

Mrs. O. Luck, Chairman of the Rose Club Junior Clubbers Club, presented the Junior Club President Jeanette Hulse who presided over an interesting fund-raising of designing and composing a Hogarth curve, a mass, a line and a line mass arrangement. The Junior club members participating on the program were Margaret Etter, Billy Etter, Jeanette Hulse, Linda Hulse and Gene Shumaker.

During the social hour the hostesses, Mrs. Dub Pincus and Mrs. Paul Dudley, served delicious refreshments.

Loyalty Sunday School Class
Meets With Bryan Clark

The Loyalty Sunday School Class of Garrett Memorial Baptist Church met Tuesday, May 12 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Clark.

The meeting was opened with prayer by Dale McKinney followed by the devotional, "I go to prepare a place for you," given by Jesse Duckett. After a short business session a pink and blue shower was given for Mrs. Thomas Gulliams. After the gifts were opened, games were played and refreshments served to 13 members and 10 guests.

Coming and Going

Mrs. Hugh Hall has returned from Kansas City and a short visit with the Rev. and Mrs. Dale Gardner. Mrs. Gardner is the former Miss Mary Ann Hall.

Mrs. Oliver Adams and Mrs. Cline Franks took part on the program of the Christian Women's Fellowship District Officers Workshop, held in the Arkadelphia Christian Church, May 15. Other members of the local CWF at the meeting were Mrs. W. E. Harris, Mrs. Ernest Graham, Mrs. Roland Pearson, Mrs. Raymond Robins and Mrs. Mike Kelly.

Mrs. Howard Pritchard, regional librarian of the Hemstead-Nevada County Library, Mrs. Hugh Garner of Spring Hill, a trustee of the Hemstead County Library and a member of the Hemstead-Nevada County Regional Board and Russell Moborg of Prescott, chairman of the Nevada County Library Board and a board member of the Hemstead-Nevada County Regional Library, attended a District Conference Workshop dealing with management and operational and financial problems of Arkansas regional, county and city libraries, held in Nashville on May 14.

These are literal translations of French fashions into versions that American women will find wearable. Here's the American copy of a two-piece dress (left) by Monsieur X. This copy is by Suzi Perette in polka-dot dacon and cotton. Midway top is slightly fitted and finished with tailored bow. Anita has copied Jules Crahay's tunic suit (center) in a checked dacon and cotton. Tightly belted tunic is worn over a slim dress. Another version of the tunic (right) has been copied in America by Abe Schrader. The fabric is a mixture of nylon and rayon in beige. Enormous pockets are buttoned in brass. This is the ideal suit for the summer traveler since it will hold its spruce, neat look through wilting weather.

Ike, Congress May Be on Political Spot

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower may have put not only the Democratic Congress but himself on a political spot with his demand for speedy action on highway, housing and what legislation.

Eisenhower caught the Democrats by surprise Wednesday with a special message outlining the damage to the economy that may result in these three politically potent fields if Congress dawdles.

There seemed little doubt that Democrats will answer the President's request for emergency action with passage of a series of bills calling for government spending far beyond the limits Eisenhower has said he is willing to accept.

Because he emphasized the critical nature of the problems, Democrats think the President has put himself in a position where he may find it difficult to veto such measures.

Beyond that, the opposition party believes it can use the President's own words — such as his statement there is an "impending disaster in wheat" — to build up strength for attempts to override any vetoes that may be forthcoming.

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, acting Senate Democratic leader, made it clear his party has no intention of yielding to Eisenhower's views on important aspects of highway, housing and wheat legislation. A similar reaction came from House Democratic leaders.

Mansfield said, for instance, there is no possibility that Congress will even consider increasing the gasoline tax from 3 to 4 1/2 cents a gallon. Eisenhower had asked the increase to finance additional grants to the states for construction of interstate highways.

There is no dispute in Congress over Eisenhower's request for additional loan insurance authority for the Federal Housing Administration. But both the Senate and House committees have included this in general housing bills which contain features to which Eisenhower objects. Mansfield said the housing bills will not be put down to the limits the President wants.

The House Agriculture Committee answered Eisenhower's plea for lower wheat supports by voting Wednesday to maintain these price props at 80 per cent of parity for the next two years, instead of the 75 per cent supports now in effect. The House committee did approve a 30 per cent reduction in wheat acreage allotments.

There were strong indications, however, that neither the House nor the Senate would accept the committee bill in its present form.

Arkansas produced 10,920,000 hundredweights of rice during 1958. Arkansas county led the state with 2,082,000 hundred pound bags.

phrases referring to new developments in TB control and prevention, is the theme of the convention.

Scheduled speakers included Dr. J. Arthur Myers of Rochester, Minn., chairman of the Committee on Tuberculosis of the American School Health Assn.

Robert H. Schnee, executive director of the ATA, said community factors was the major problem facing the workers.

"The persons we need to reach are those who have never had a chest X-ray and may never want to have one," he said.

Draws Crowds in Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — So this is a bad show town it doesn't look that way today.

"Bells Are Ringing" with Judy Holliday is exceeding its Broadway grosses at the Philharmonic Auditorium. The two main leg houses are alight — the Huntington Hartford with "Once More With Feeling" and the Biltmore with "Two for the Seesaw."

There are a half-dozen other legitimate shows by local companies, including the longrun "Billy Barnes Revue," which is heading for a New York opening.

But the challenge to Los Angeles as a show town comes next Wednesday with the opening of the Bolshoi Ballet. The only other dates in the U.S. outside of New York are brief appearances in Washington and San Francisco.

Ticket sales are reported to be excellent, especially considering the cost ($25 top opening night, $12.50 thereafter).

Hollywood is still puzzling over the failure of "Diary of Anne Frank" to do business.

Some say the roadshow prices are too high for a movie — $3.50 for loges, $2.20 for orchestra on weekends. But I think there is another problem, too.

Despite the acclaim for the work as a book, play and movie, there is still some resistance to the subject as a piece of entertainment. I felt that myself, knowing the tragic nature of Anne Frank's life. I went to the stage play reluctantly, on the urging of those who said it was fine theater. And it was.

But people have to be sold to see it. Twentieth Century-Fox realized the public wasn't being sold by the ads that proclaimed the film's greatness. The company began selling it as a human story. But the change in approach still didn't help. If the film ever does draw crowds — and there is no justice if it doesn't — it will be because those who do see it tell others what a wonderful experience it is.

TB Workers Hold Annual Meeting

LITTLE ROCK, (AP)—Tuberculosis workers from throughout the state met here today for the annual convention of the Arkansas Tuberculosis Assn.

A sharp rise reported in Arkansas' tuberculosis deaths underscored study session and discussions planned for the meeting.

DOROTHY DIX

Grandparents' Best Help Would Be More Affection

Dear Dorothy Dix: We have three children, one of whom was born to me out of wedlock before I met my husband. He has always accepted the child as his own and we are a happy family. My parents-in-law have been very good to us, helping with the home, buying clothes for the children and bringing them gifts. However, they have drawn a definite line between the oldest girl and the other children as far as affection is concerned. When they visit, they say "hi" to her, and very little more. They come at least once a day, a week, sometimes two, but we're never invited to visit them. In the matter of clothes and gifts, the two younger children get much nicer things than the stepgrandchild. This hurts me and the girl. My husband has decided to adopt my daughter and has consulted his mother about it, but she says it isn't a good idea. My husband has mentioned the matter since. How can I go about solving this problem?

—Anne B.

Dear Anne: There seems to be a good relationship between you and your in-laws, so I think you should approach the problem directly and ask them to try showing more affection to your daughter. If they agree to sign up a warmer feeling for her, it will grow into the real thing. Who can resist a little girl's charm? Teach your daughter to be more responsive to affection, and soon all differences will disappear. Promote the adopting idea. When the in-laws realize the child is really on a par with the other children and that your husband fully accepts her, their difference will melt.

Send your problem to DOROTHY DIX, Dept. 10, Enclosure, a stamped, addressed envelope and address her care of this newspaper.

Navy Blimp Crashes, One Man Killed

By Russell H. Mullen

ARKHURST, N.J. (AP)—One crewman was killed early today when a silver Navy blimp crashed into a hangar while attempting to land in dense fog. Six crewmen were hospitalized and several others suffered minor injuries.

The wreckage was wedged in the hangar roof 150 feet above the ground. Rescue workers clambered over the roof and removed the injured crewmen, who had been trapped in the blimp's gondola.

Names of the dead man and the injured were withheld by the Navy pending notification of next of kin.

The freak accident left the wreckage near the top of the 150-foot high hangar. The whole roof top was shrouded by the blimp.

is found in the Old Testament. It is supremely the source-book of hero worship.

I think that it is in David and Solomon that boyish hero-intellect in the Old Testament chiefly centers.

I think, too, that this interest is in the glamorous aspects of both Kings, to the disregard for the wisdom of the darker and tragic dis-people that are more emphasized in the adult reading of the in-cidents.

Of King Solomon the outstanding incident for the boy was that he was the wisest man that ever lived—a tradition not so verified by later reading. It was based on the story of Solomon's choice of wisdom (I Kings 3:1-14), the attributing to him of the wise sayings of Proverbs, and the incident of the judgment of the two women claiming a baby.

In general it has perhaps been too much disregarded that Solom-on's choice of wisdom was in a dream and in conflict with the im-wisdom of his actual life and re-ligion.

Of David, a boy's hero worship related mostly to his earlier life without much notice of the fact that his chief greatness was as King of Israel, which he became only after the greater part of his life had passed, including his years as an outlaw. A child could hardly appreciate the fact that David took over a nation in ruins and built it into a strong and pow-erful heritage for Solomon, his son.

But despite the aspects of boy and triumph, and the magnifi-cence of Solomon in his extension of the kingdom, and his building of temples and palaces, and his reputation for wisdom, the glory was tarnished, and the greatness went down to ruin was calstru-ction and eventual destruction of one kingdom and the downfall of another in exile.

However, small boys become acquainted with the Bible, and their reading became a basis for adult enlightenment.

There is much in the Bible and in other history that goes far be-yond boyish hero worship.

olds of the blimp's great gas bag. Rescuers had to reach the scene with aerial ladders and then they hauled the gas bag out of the hangar. The gas bag was then hauled out of the hangar. The gas bag was then hauled out of the hangar.

The 2PG-2 blimp was returning from a routine 21-hour anti-sub-marine patrol early this morn-ing. It was making a radar-controlled instrument approach through a swirling fog that blanketed out everything more than 100 feet away.

They probably never saw the ground until after they hit, said Lt. Cmdr. Herman Spahr, admin-istrative officer of Squadron 3 to which the craft was attached.

The fog was so bad we had to come in a blind," said Spahr. "It was just piling up speed to 45 miles an hour when it hit."

The huge bag was ripped by the wreckage and its million cubic feet of helium w o o s h e d out through its rent sides. The gas is non-inflammable and dispersed without harm into the fog.

Rescuers at first were unable to locate four officers and two men beneath the entangling sheets of the 243-foot-long bag. They were found in the fore part of the m al-lay gondola.

After almost five hours one of the officers was pried loose. He was taken down a ladder, strapped to a stretcher and hauled out of the blimp's gondola. The blimp's gondola was smeared with blood.

The crew members in the rear of the car were unhurt and made their way down ladders to safety. Spahr said rescuers had talked to the two trapped officers, but were having difficulty freeing them.

Spahr said the landing as a routine instrument approach, the same kind the commercial air-lines make.

There was a total of eight officers and 10 enlisted men aboard. Spahr said the blimp was about two years old. It is made up of the sausage-shaped balloon, that holds the helium, and the gondola, which hangs below. The blimp's two motors are attached to the gondola.

WILSON, N. Y. (AP)—Enroute here after conducting church ser-vices in nearby Newfane, the Rev. William M. Davis encountered an icy patch on the Wilson-Burt Road. His car left the road, rolled over twice and came to a halt in an orchard—a total wreck.

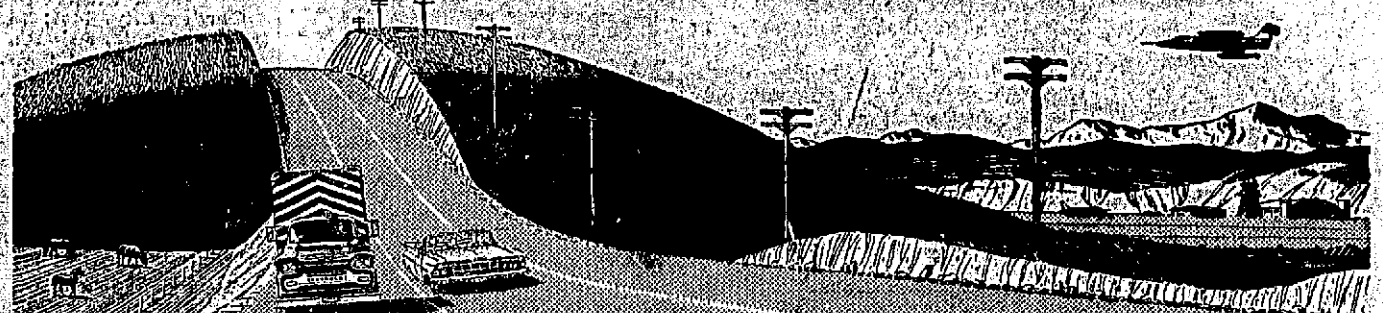

Instantly stunned but ot Dr. Davis unhurt, the Rev. Mr. Davis who is priest-in-charge of St. An-drew's Episcopal Church, Newfane, and St. John's Church, Wilson, hailed a passing motorist. He then continued to the service here.

It went rather well, too, consid-ering, he said later.

Act 10 Delay Order Is Extended

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—A 10-day extension of a temporary restraining order which barred enforcement of Act 10 of 1958 was granted yesterday by U.S. District Judge J. Smith Henley.

Henley also set a hearing for May 25 to determine if the order should be made permanent. It was set to expire today.

Act 10 requires teachers in state-supported institutions to file affidavits listing their organizational affiliations during the past five years. Faculty members and students at the University of Arkansas and other colleges and schools have attacked it.

The restraining order was granted to B. T. Shelton, a Little Rock Negro school teacher, the Arkansas Teachers Assn. (Negro), and T. W. Coggins, its executive secretary. They are plaintiffs in a suit filed in U.S. District Court at Little Rock which challenges the constitutionality of Act 10 and Act 115 of 1958. The latter law prohibits public agencies from hiring any member of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

The extension order will lapse Sunday, May 24, a day before the scheduled hearing on a permanent order, Henley said, however, that he didn't think any school board would take advantage of this to fire teachers who have failed to sign the affidavits.

Gov. Orval Faubus has agreed to meet with faculty members and students at the University of Arkansas next Tuesday to discuss their objections to the law.

Sex Deviate Admits Brutal Child-Slaying

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—A convicted sex-deviant held in a state mental institution has admitted police said, the kidnapping and brutal slaying of Ben Wagner, 6, whose battered body was found in a roadside ditch nearly six weeks ago.

Booked today on a charge of first-degree murder was Harold W. McLaughlin, 28, who since was cleared of any connection with the case.

"He ran out of the car and I chased him," Detective Inspector Rudolph Glaser, quoted McLaughlin as saying. "I caught him and held him with one arm, and stabbed him three times with the knife I always carried in the car. He screamed and tried to fight me."

Ben, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wagner, was on the way with a young companion to buy ice cream for Ben's three sisters when he was lured into the car Saturday night, April 1. His body was found the next day in a ditch along a rural road 15 miles north of here.

"I just left the body there," McLaughlin told Glaser. "I drove away and then threw the knife away."

"I went to church a week later," McLaughlin said. "I bought a candle for a dollar because it would burn for a week. I lit it for him because I killed him."

McLaughlin, who had undergone treatment in a state institution in 1954, was recommended last month after he was accused in a disorderly conduct warrant of luring a 6-year-old boy into his car a week before Ben was kidnapped. The younger boy was released unharmed when his friends began to shout. Psychiatrists told the court McLaughlin was feeble-minded.

The first break in the case came when a hunting knife was found 600 feet from where Ben's body was discovered. Tests showed it was stained with blood and held fibers matching those in the clothing found near the body.

THE ST. LAWRENCE SEAWAY—Newsmap gives a bird's-eye view of the St. Lawrence Seaway (heavy line) from its beginning near Montreal toward its eventual western terminus at Duluth, Minn. The Seaway opens a previously landlocked area covering more than a million square miles which can now be serviced by 90 per cent of the world's merchant ships. It will speed transportation at lower cost of iron ore from the Lake Superior region and the new Labrador and Quebec fields to the Cleveland-Youngstown-Pittsburgh steel mills. When the Seaway is completed about June, 1962, vessels from the Atlantic Ocean will be able to enter the St. Lawrence River and steam 2,350 miles to Duluth. The project has seven locks (see map), 80 feet wide, 800 feet long. Deepening of five major lakes channels remains to be done.

A raw west wind was blowing when Jim Furlong saddled his speckled gray gelding late that afternoon. Fern brought him two bundles of food and wedged one into each of his saddlebags. He didn't look at her as he rode out of the yard.

Darkness caught Furlong on the long slope above Sick Squad Creek. After that riding by inspection the moonless gloom, he made it.

Last Saturday a white sheen was found about half a mile from the ditch that held Ben's body. It carried the faint initials, "H. W. M."—The same as McLaughlin's.

to the abandoned tarp windbreak where Beal and Fyfe had camped. The place didn't seem right to him. He sat his horse for an interval of head-cocked listening, then he scouted the roundabout brush before building a fire.

Afterward, with a small blaze making its circle of firelight, Furlong tried to shrug off a sense of apprehension. "I tried to convince myself that this was like a hundred other misery camps he had occupied."

He ate one of Fern's sandwiches with his coffee. He thought Fern, how steadfast she had been through all the trouble; how resolute and unchanging her loyalty was.

Furlong spent a restless night. When he rode southward soon after daybreak with the sense of apprehension still nagging him, he understood it wasn't the camp that was wrong.

"Me," he said, and wondered how long it would take to find Cleo Veto, and hoped it would be soon.

Shortly after noon Furlong crossed the Empire road and saw what appeared to be a dark pony tracks headed eastward, and a fresh-made set of wheel tracks with center hoofprints headed west.

Ignoring the buggy's possible significance, Furlong concentrated his attention on the pony tracks. Twenty or 30 head, he guessed, and was mildly surprised that so many riders would be heading toward town in one bunch. Then he remembered that yesterday was Christmas. Cele brating.

Furlong rode toward Empire at a lope. With the crew gone to town he could settle his score today. Veto, he felt sure, wouldn't have gone to Junction with his men; the foreman would remain at headquarters in the manner of an obedient servant.

And there was where the end of this would be!

Furlong crouched on a brush-fenced knoll half a mile from Empire's front gate and watched the compound with an unceasing vigilance.

Thinking how many times he had heard Empire's foreman had failed to find him, Furlong understood that there would be no stopping now until he found Veto. It didn't occur to him that he might not survive the outcome of that meeting, or that it would not alter the tragedy of a lost fight against the Empire. Facing Veto, man to man, was to be his passport out of Warrior Basin. He could not leave without it.

Near noon Edith Pardee came out of the house, crossed the compound and went into the cook shack. Her presence explained the wheel tracks he had seen on the Junction road.

He wondered why she had traveled to the ranch yesterday instead of having Pardee come into town for his Christmas dinner.

Presently he watched Jules Pardee limp to other cookshacks and later watched him accompany his wife back to the main house.

Convinced that Veto must be at the roundup camp, he began a wide circle, intending to go there. But a mile farther on he came to three sets of fresh horse tracks, headed north.

Studying the tracks and guessing there were no more than five hours old, Furlong was wholly surprised. What few riders hadn't gone to town would be needed to hold the steer herd. Yet, according to this sign, three of them had come to the ranch and later ridden toward the horse camp.

Reasonably sure that one of them was Cleo Veto, Furlong followed the hoofprints.

It was coming dark when he approached the horse camp. At first, seeing no light, he thought the cabin was unoccupied—that the trio had gone on. But even as he contemplated the welcome thought of grain for his horse and a well-cooked supper for himself, a faint glow of lamplight appeared at the cabin's one small window.

For upwards of 10 minutes, while full darkness came and a cold breeze set up a faint rustling in the roundabout brush, Furlong considered his chances of tackling the cabin. It would mean opening the door and shooting Veto before those three guns went into action.

It was the realization that he might fail to kill Veto that finally decided him. There would be less chance of missing his target tomorrow morning.

So thinking, Furlong rode east until he found a rock outcrop that gave him some protection from the wind. Here he camped, dozed off. The fire had gone out when he awoke, and he was so cold that his teeth chattered.

He was assailed an hour before daybreak, a faint glow of anticipation combating predawn's dismal cold. The next hour might see the finish of this thing. It occurred to him that there would

Treasury in Heavy Demand for Cash

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Treasury encountered a near-record demand for cash this week when it offered new securities to holders of $1,800,000,000 of maturing securities.

Reporting today on the refinancing efforts, the department said holdings of $59 million dollars worth of maturing securities elected to take cash instead of turning them in for new certificates yielding 4.05 per cent.

A total of $1,617,000,000 of 1½ per cent certificates will mature Friday. Holders of $1,258,000,000 accepted the exchange offer.

Treasury officials said the demand for cash was within its expectations and that it would not have to borrow money to meet the demand.

What the Treasury calls the attrition rate—that is the demand for cash—in the refinancing was 31 per cent. This was second only to a 32 per cent attrition in a refinancing in May 1955.

A high attrition rate reflects an inclination by investors to put their money in other forms of investment rather than federal government securities.

Conferees Agree on Foreign Aid Sum

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate and House conferees have agreed on a 150-million-dollar appropriation for the foreign aid program's development loan fund.

This is 75 million dollars less than President Eisenhower requested, fifty million more than the House originally approved, and 50 million dollars less than the Senate voted.

The fund is used for loans to friendly nations to help them develop their economies.

The money is included in an omnibus appropriation bill its total of $2,704,500,300—most of it for the Veterans' Administration—was 139 million less than the President requested, 107 million more than the House voted, and 80 million less than the Senate originally approved.

After the original 13 colonies, the first states to be admitted to the union were Vermont, Kentucky, Tennessee and Ohio.

be no pleasure in his departure. He would be leaving a part of his life in this country. The best part. And the worst.

Tylin's horse in brush 100 yards from the horse camp, Furlong approached the cabin.

Step-Grandson Fails to Save Man From Fire

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—A 70-year-old man died in a house fire near Jonesboro early today and his step-grandson was burned seriously in a futile attempt to save him.

Dead is James Westerman, Buford Rushing, 12, was hospitalized at Jonesboro and attendants said he was in serious condition. The boy's mother, Mrs. Louise Westerman, 30, escaped unharmed.

Officers gave this account: Mrs. Westerman lit a kerosene cook stove and an explosion occurred, showering fire on parts of the kitchen—a three-four-room frame house. She screamed at Westerman and her son to go outside, but Westerman insisted he had time to get something.

"Come out now," it's too late," Mrs. Westerman cried.

He went to his room and the boy rushed after him. Mrs. Westerman ran out of the house and a few minutes later, her son emerged with his clothing after she helped put out the flames and they went to a neighbors house. The neighbor drove them to the hospital.

The house, located in a rural area about nine miles northeast of Jonesboro, was destroyed.

Louise Westerman was away from home, working in another city.

Officers Halt Fight and Possible Riot

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A half dozen police officers were summoned late yesterday to quell a fight which for a time threatened to grow into a small riot.

Patrolman Harold E. Simons arrived first and said he found L. W. Nichols Jr., Negro, about 28, fighting with another Negro man.

He said he responded to a call that a man was drunk and had knocked a white boy and Negro boy from their bicycles.

Simons said a crowd, mainly of Negroes had gathered to watch and that it grew larger as he tried to separate the two men.

He said some of the Negroes, including Nichols' father, tried to help him but that others cursed and shouted at him.

A call for assistance brought other officers to the scene. They stood guard while Nichols was strapped into an ambulance. Nichols was taken to a hospital and then to jail, where he was booked for drunkenness and assault.

He was sentenced today to 12 days in jail and fined $25 and costs. He pleaded guilty.

There were no other arrests and no one else was injured.
